DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 to 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being clearly anticipated by EP 962,556.

The EP 962,556 reference teaches a silicon wafer, which is nitrogen, doped. The silicon wafer is cut from a silicon ingot prepared by the czochralski method. The nitrogen doping is within the claimed ranges. Further, the nitrogen doping levels are such to improve the virtual life or TDDB, note, examples.

Claims 1 to 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Graef et al. (5,935,320)

The Graef et al reference teaches a silicon wafer, which is nitrogen, doped. The silicon wafer is cut from a silicon ingot prepared by the czochralski method. The nitrogen doping is within the claimed ranges. Further, the nitrogen doping levels are such to lower the dislocations, note example 3.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 6 to 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Graef et al in view of Ep 915,502.

The Graef et al reference is relied on for the same reasons as stated, supra, differs from the instant claims in the use of TDDb. However, the Ep 915,502 reference teaches that when lowering the COPS there is an inherent increase in the virtual life of the wafer as shown by an increase in the TDDb test, note page 2. It would have been obvious to one ordinary skill in the art to modify the Graef et al reference by the teachings of the Ep 915,502 reference to use the TDDb test to determine the virtual life which is increase in the Graef et al reference as the reference teaches lowering the COPS and the nitrogen doping is within the range set forth by applicants.
